THE KING FELICITATES
LIPTON'S $400
MISS CRANE'S 9 POETS
LABOR AIRPLANE WAR
By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 By King Features

LAST SUNDAY was President Hoover's fifty-sixth birthday anniversary. Everybody hopes he will live 56 years more, and that his highest ambition centered on public service may be realized.

The British king sent "warmest felicitations" signing his cable George R. I. The initials at the end representing two Latin words, rex imperator, meaning "king, emperor."

You might say: "It must give a man a thrill to sign those initials, so much more imposing than anything a president could tack on his name."

But to the king, whose messages are all written by somebody else, it's an old story. He may not even know that he sent the cable.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON soon will arrive to see his yacht win or lose. He is 80, and the cup that he seeks was won by an American boat when Lipton was a one-year-old baby.

It would please everybody if the genial old Irishman could take the cup back with him. We don't need it and our young millionaire yacht builders would enjoy going over after it.

YACHT RACES MEAN LITTLE to the average man, but a few words that Lipton said to reporters, mean everything to millions.

He told how he first came to this country, at 17, in the steerage, adding: "I went to work in the south, saved money, and returned home with $400 in my pocket, and I thought I was the richest man in the world."

He wasn't the richest man, but he was rich, because he knew how to save.

Lipton has business ability, understands advertising and trade. But all his business intelligence would have done him no good without his first $400. That money enabled him to start something.

And starting, he succeeded. A great majority of Americans die worth less than $100; 85 per cent of those past 65 are dependent on others, and that in a country where average intelligence, willingness to work, and capacity to save, mean independence in old age.

The charming Miss Nathalie Crane, recently an infant prodigy, and 17 years old yesterday, had a birthday party and told about her new book, an epic poem called "Pecachontas." In the book, which some Wall Street bankers will devour, the Russian "reds" conquer America, sweeping along the coast, seizing everything. Then America's manhood asserts itself under the leadership of nine poets, (please don't laugh) and the beautiful Pecachontas, remarkably like Miss Crane probably, reigns as queen of the United States.

THAT IS QUITE as reasonable as things that some of our "best financial minds" say about the "red menace."

Be that as it may, Russia's government has spent here, in the last 60 days, $40,500,000, buying agricultural implements, for use on co-operative and government-owned farms in Russia.

The money has bought tractors and "combines," the most scientific machinery for harvesting grain, cutting, stacking, weighing the grain, all in one operation.

While we talk about farm relief,

RECORD VOTING IN PRIMARY PROBABLE

Seek To Lower Graf's Record

Two important sojourners at Roosevelt Field, L. I., for the moment are Roger Williams (left) and Ted Lundgren well known California fliers, who are planning a flight around the world in an effort to break the speed record set by the Graf Zeppelin. They will fly their Enseo monoplane and have yet to pick up a radio operator.

FATE OF SENATORIAL LEADERS IN BALANCE WITH PRIMARY VOTE

Disgruntled Tom Heflin Urges Alabama Voters To Stay Away From Polls And Support Him As Independent; Norris, Robinson Contests

The political fate of national figures hung in the balance today as voters of five states chose party nominees for state and federal offices.

The veteran Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, faced two opponents for the Republican senatorial nomination in a primary identified in interest by his defection from the Republican ranks in 1928, to support Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Bolting the party fold in 1928 to support Alfred E. Smith for president will not cost Senator Norris support of Republicans if he is successful today in obtaining his party's renomination. This edict was given out late yesterday by Senator Fess of Ohio, the new chairman of his party's national committee, following a conference at the White House.

"The national committee can make no discrimination among candidates," Fess said. "It is interested only in the principles involved. It is the duty of the committee to support the nominees chosen in party primaries."

In Arkansas, Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic leader and 1928 vice-presidential candidate, faced primary opposition for the first time in 12 years.

The colorful J. Thomas Heflin, senator from Alabama, was forced to step aside at today's primary by state leaders, leaving the party's senatorial contest in Alabama between John H. Bankhead, of Jasper and Frederick I. Thompson, Mobile publisher. Heflin, however, was urging the voters to stay away from the polls today. He will run against the Democratic winner as an Independent candidate in the November elections.

In Oklahoma and Ohio, the Democrats selected candidates to oppose the Republican senatorial incumbents—W. B. Pine and Roscoe C. McCulloch, neither of whom had opposition within their party.

REPUBLICAN POSTS NOT IN CONTESTS

State Treasurer's Office Only One With Fight On G. O. P. Ballot

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—Except for a lively five-cornered contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in which prohibition was one of the chief issues, Ohio's state-wide primary today created only nominal excitement among the voters who were to select candidates for the November election.

On the Republican side, the balloting was virtually a formality, since there was but one statewide issue to develop a contest of importance, that of state treasurer. U. S. Senator Roscoe McCulloch was unopposed for the post he assumed by appointment following the death of Senator Theodore E. Burton, governor Myers V. Cooper, Attorney General Gilbert Bettman and Lieutenant Governor John T. Brown also were without opposition.

Prohibition Clean-cut Issue. Prohibition was made a clear-cut issue in the Democratic senatorial race when one of the candidates, former Congressman Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland came out bluntly for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and a second George S. Myers, also of Cleveland, for modification.

Former State Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax, of Bucyrus and W. W. Durbin of Kenton have kept silent on the question, both devoting their campaign speeches to the tariff, farm relief and other matters.

HORST WITNESS ILLNESS VICTIM

War Veteran Succumbs To Dread Disease In Army Hospital

AKRON, Aug. 12.—Bascom McHenry, 32, one of the central figures in the Melvin Horst kidnapping mystery during the first investigation which followed on the heels of the boy's disappearance from his home in Orrville, December 27, 1928, has been removed from the case, ever.

Officials, investigating new evidence uncovered in the two year old mystery, learned yesterday that McHenry, World War veteran, died in the national military home in Dayton, Ohio, of tuberculosis, July 29, 1930. He was buried in the cemetery at West Jefferson, Ohio last Friday.

Non-Support Charge Results In Arrest

LISBON, Aug. 12.—John Fullmer, who divided his time between East Liverpool and Chester, W. Va., was sentenced to jail for three months on a charge of non support, the affidavit being filed against him by Emma Fleming of 142 West Second street, East Liverpool.

Fullmer was taken before Juvenile Judge Lodge Riddle and after a brief hearing, entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

He was before the court previously on a similar charge, and execution of sentence was suspended upon his promise to care for his children.

Bride's Father Files Charges Against Man

MILLERSBURG, Aug. 12.—Jacob B. Kissel, 25, Romney, W. Va., was held to the Holmes county grand jury today on a charge of shooting to kill filed by Roy Covert of Nashville, O., father of Kissel's wife.

The shooting was said by county authorities to have been a result of the elopement of Kissel and Covert's daughter. They said the daughter started divorce proceedings and Kissel came to the Covert home to return here to West Virginia when the shooting occurred.

Milk Prices Up

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—Milk dealers here have announced that an advance in the price of milk from 12 to 13 cents a quart would in all probability take effect Aug. 15. Drought was given as the cause.

Booth Official Has Staunch Objection

TOLEDO, Aug. 12.—A woman booth official here complained today to the election board that a man entered the booth attended in a bathrobe, house slippers and little else.

Investigation revealed that other booth workers had gone to the man's house to get ink for the booth and that the man, who had been sleeping, donned the scanty attire to bring the ink.

ENDURANCE PAIR STILL ALOFT IN ST. LOUIS PLANE

Jackson And O'Brine Are Near To Hunter Mark; Few Hours To Go

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—The monoplane Greater St. Louis, piloted by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, early today soared nearer and nearer to a new record for endurance refueling flying, as Jackson and O'Brine approached the present record of nearly 554 hours, held by the Hunter Brothers, their plane continued to function well—so well, in fact, that John Hunter, a visitor at Lambert-St. Louis field, said "it looks as though they have got it in the bag."

At 12.11 a. m. today Jackson and O'Brine had been circling over the field for 532 hours and had slightly less than 23 hours to go to equal the Hunters' record. Under endurance flying regulations, they must remain up an additional hour to break the record.

Although within sight of the record, which they formerly held, Jackson and O'Brine today had no intention of an early landing. They planned to remain in the air at least eight days beyond the present record.

May Stay Up Long

Jackson, speaking over the plane's radio transmitter, even talked of staying up three weeks more.

John Hunter, who acted as spokesman for the brothers after their arrival here yesterday, assured their St. Louis rivals they would not attempt to break the record of the Greater St. Louis this year if a new mark is achieved.

There was a suggestion of chagrin, however, in the well wishes of Harry Perkins of St. Louis, Hunters' manager. The success of Jackson and O'Brine has cost the Hunters about $100,000 in contracts which might have been forthcoming if there were not a tendency to wait and see if a new record was established, Perkins said.

The fliers received the first assurance of a financial return from their flight yesterday when an oil company announced it would give them $100 for each hour they remained aloft over the old record. The offer will continue for 70 hours, or until the fund reaches $7,000.

Police See Solution Of Gangland Murder

WARREN, Aug. 12.—A solution to the gangland murder of Pietro Fedelo, alias Salvatore Ranzano, of Youngstown, was believed by Sheriff John C. Risher to be at hand today. Sheriff Risher said he had received a clue to the identity of one of two men who met Fedelo in front of a Youngstown hotel the night of the killing. The three men rode away in an automobile. Risher's informant said.

Fedelo's body, pierced by 47 bullets and shot gun slugs, was found lying beside an automobile on a road near Vienna a week ago.

Personalities Come As Texas Voters Go To Polls

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Aug. 12.—Table manners and mode of dress were among the issues in Oklahoma's Democratic run-off primary election today.

The election ended a brief but bitter campaign in which threats and taunts played no minor part. The principal contests were between William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray and Frank Buttram, gubernatorial aspirants and T. P. Gore and C. J. Wrightman, seeking party designation as senatorial nominees.

Murray, widely known for his attempted Bolivian colonization has been far from passive in

DRIVER DIES IN CROSSING CRASH

Former Salem Resident Killed Instantly Near Sebring

George Schoch, 39, commercial photographer of Alliance and Sebring, formerly of Salem, was instantly killed shortly after last midnight at Johnson's crossing near Sebring, when his automobile was struck by the New York and Chicago train, Pennsylvania lines, and nearly wrecked the train.

The engine was disabled and the automobile was carried 60 yards. Schoch's death was caused by a broken neck.

There were no witnesses to the accident but it is believed the automobile stalled on the west bound track. The train was west bound.

Schoch was born in Basle, Switzerland. He came to America in 1905. He was a World War veteran and was in three major engagements, serving with the intelligence headquarters of the Wilson and Bushnell Smith driving range at Townsend ship line school last Thursday night have been recovered by the owners.

BOMBING PLANE STILL MYSTERY; SEARCH GOES ON

No Trace Of Monoplane Or Aviators Found; Federal Action

(By The Associated Press)

MURPHYSBORO, ILL., Aug. 12.—Paul Montgomery, local aviator was arrested here today by Sheriff William Flanagan for investigation in connection with the airplane bombing of mining properties in the vicinity of Providence, Ky., yesterday.

The local campaigns brought out many voters in both parties in Toledo, St. Clairsville, Salem, Iron-ton and Urbana. Local issues failed to arouse unusual interest in Portsmouth East Liverpool, Marion, Steubenville, Columbus, Canton, Akron, Youngstown, Lima, Dayton, Cleveland Massillon Cincinnati, Washington C. H., Zaniesville, Newark, Springfield and Chillicothe.

Small Interest Shown

Only passing interest has been demonstrated by voters in the Democratic senatorial race, the principal contest in both parties, and as a result a light vote throughout the state is anticipated on that ticket.

Five candidates are entered for the senatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket while Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch is unopposed for Republican selection.

Fair and cool weather was prevalent in most sections of the state as the ballots were cast.

A seven cornered race for county recorder on the Republican ticket, with local interest was said to be responsible for the heavy voting in Salem. In Toledo contests for the congressional nomination on both tickets and in which the wet and dry issue was predominant was responsible for heavy balloting.

County contests in Urbana and Iron-ton brought out an unusual number of voters. The Lawrence county campaign was one of the most spirited in the country history.

NORMAL VOTE IN STARK EXPECTED

CANTON, Aug. 12.—Early reports from election officials indicated that today's primary vote in Stark county will be about normal. Interest in several local contests offsets the apathy over the state ticket, officials announced after an early survey of voting booths.

Within the county there are several active fights for nominations on the Republican ticket. On the Democratic side the conditions are reversed with the greatest interest in the state ticket.

Prisoners Fall In Attempted Escape

SANDUSKY, Aug. 12.—Three prisoners who attempted to escape from the city jail yesterday were captured by Sgt. A. P. Tremper when he saw them climbing through a skylight.

Two of the prisoners are George Smith and Jesse Williams, both 19, of Akron, who a short time before had pleaded guilty to an automobile theft and were ordered held in the county jail in default of $5,000 bond each pending grand jury action. Smith was cut about the head when the skylight fell upon him.

The third conspirator was Stanley Szelegowski, 21, of Toledo, a trusty at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' home here who was awaiting return to the Mansfield reformatory.

Freed Of Charge

SANDUSKY, Aug. 12.—Theodore Wobser was free today of charges of possession of liquor after G. E. Reiter Sandusky dry agent, had failed to give tangible proof in court here yesterday. Police say Wobser is leader of a local rum ring.

SURVEY AT NOON SHOWS HEAVIEST IN CITY HISTORY

East Liverpool Reported As Light; Other Cities Showing Normal

719 BALLOTS CAST IN 13 PRECINCTS

Few Democrats Of Salem Taking Part In Primaries

With more than 700 votes cast up until noon, expectations of a record-breaking primary vote for this city are being realized here today.

Votes cast in the city's 11 precincts totaled 621 a noon, while 98 residents of Perry township voted selections in two township precincts bringing the total to 719. All previous noon-day records for primary balloting were surpassed. The vote up until noon at the 1928 primaries, which also established a Salem record, was less than 600.

Few Democratic ballots were cast judges at precincts reported. Republican votes outnumbering those of the opposing party more than 5 to 1. Less than 350 Democratic votes are anticipated for the entire day of voting.

Predict New Record
Republican party leaders, still confident of a record-breaking vote, predict that more than 2,000 will be cast.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—Light voting was reported in the majority of the larger cities of Ohio today as electors selected their non-congressional and county offices.

The local campaigns brought out many voters in both parties in Toledo, St. Clairsville, Salem, Iron-ton and Urbana. SENATORS FEEL PUBLIC'S CALL

BEVERLY HILES, CAL., Aug. 12.—Today is another primary day. In the old days when senators were senators, the state legislature picked out the ones that were to run. Now they pick themselves.

You put an ad in the papers saying you believe you are needed. Maybe it's an original idea with you, but there is no way keeping you from running. There is no qualification outside of an intention necessary.

And by the way, we lost a mighty good ex-senator out here this week, James Phelan, a philanthropist, a scholar, a patron of the arts, and a gentleman—with these qualifications natural to a Democrat. A fine fellow was Jimmy.

A PROBLEM VANISHES

The signing of a compact between miners and operators in the anthracite industry at Scranton, Pennsylvania, last week, eliminated the largest problem the department of labor foresaw in its work for 1930. The agreement, which is good for five and one-half years, is interpreted as positive assurance of peaceful condition in the anthracite industry because it provides for a cooperative board to adjust all minor differences arising while it is in force. It is believed the agreement will give an impetus to the acquisition of new markets and the regaining of those lost in the past, largely as the result of strikes and discussion.

James J. Davis, secretary of labor, who addressed the assembly of miners and operators after they had reached agreement interpreted their action as having significance not only to the prosperity of anthracite regions but to the nation. He said: "The signing of this agreement means more than the stabilization of prices in anthracite coal. It means the stabilization of real estate and property values and a great advance in the business interests of the community. This five and a half-years agreement, to my mind, means the life of this hard coal community and all the people residing in it."

"As secretary of labor I take a still broader view. I am looking at our nation as a whole. If the 150,000 mine workers in this region are steadily employed at good wages, they will be bigger buyers of the products of the farms and factories of the nation; for you and I know that when we are at work and our earnings are sufficient we are inspired to buy many of the good things of life in addition to the necessities."

In previous years it has been difficult for miners and operators in the anthracite industry to come to agreement without serious loss of time and curtailment of production. The satisfactory settlement which they have made of their problems in 1930 is indeed a good sign of their common desire to cooperate for the general good of the industry.

AVIATION

There are considerably more than 20,000 persons engaged directly in the piloting and conditioning of airplanes in the United States, according to a department of commerce survey which shows conditions as of June 30. The report, recently published, placed the number of planes licensed and identified at 9,773. There were 13,041 licensed pilots of all classes and 8,842 mechanics.

It is an interesting glimpse of a growing profession. It becomes, of course, still more interesting when it is realized that for every licensed pilot, for every accredited mechanic there are probably two others trying to achieve the same rating. Also of special significance is the percentage of pilots holding private licenses—four of every 10 pilots in the United States. The most modern way to travel claims almost as many enthusiasts among those who can afford it for the sake of convenience as those who seek to develop its commercial possibilities.

At the time the survey was made there were 261 women pilots in the United States. Twenty of them held transport pilot licenses, 34 limited commercial licenses, one an industrial license and 206 private licenses. There were also four women mechanics.

California led all states in the number of licensed and identified aircraft, and licensed pilots and mechanics with New York taking second place. No other state approached the totals in the three classifications as they were tabulated.

ed in these two states. It is doubtful that flying ever can be made fool proof, but the number of people engaged in the profession of aviation indicates that something is being done toward making flyers fool proof. Unlike an automobile driver, an aviator must demonstrate his ability to operate his conveyance before he is trusted with human life. And unlike some automobile mechanics, an airplane mechanic must never make a mistake. In its infancy aviation is far better balanced than motoring in this respect.

Some of the new cut-price fiction still beats out the price when it comes to cheapness.

What Others Say

FREAK ADDRESSES

Now that Postmaster General Walter F. Brown has decreed that all letters bearing "trick" or alleged humorous addresses be sent to the dead letter office in Washington, the general public can not fail to join with the postal clerks in applauding so sensible an order.

The daily volume of conventionally inscribed mail which passes through the Detroit postoffice, for example, is great enough to test the speed of the mail sorters. These persons should not be obliged to take time out for the attempted solution of such puzzles as are directed by the feeble cleverness and lame humor of a certain type of mind. Enough time is spent in deciphering illegible handwriting.

Quite possibly the jokesters who write a couple of initials beneath the word "wood" and expect the mail clerks to know that the missive is intended for "J. O. Underwood," to cite a case in point, have not realized that their pranks actually result in the waste of their fellow-taxpayers' money. The postal system, provided for the convenience of citizens, to be used for the transmission of legitimate personal and business messages, operates at a deficit, as it is. Consequently any non-essential clogging of the machinery is manifestly inefficient and unfair.—Detroit Free Press.

Is He Going To Beat Us To It?

NEW YORK Day by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

DRESDEN, Aug. 12.—Some more sickening swoops in the air and here's Dresden! From now on I can use a pet phrase "as fragile as Dresden china" with authority, for I have seen the local product. There is a powder-puff delicacy about the city. Or maybe it is suggestion.

Dresden is cupped in a valley paradoxically high above the sea, the capital of Saxon Free State. It is reminiscent of Paris in that it is divided into two parts by the Elbe river. Altstadt or old town is on its left bank, and Neustadt or new town on its right.

Next to Berlin, it attracts more tourists than any other city and yet, unless interested in a cranial Frankfort, Cologne or Leipzig are the far more interesting. The high spot of Dresden was its chocolate. I am always lured from exquisite art by pleasant things.

Old town forms the central business section—a medieval medley of ancient houses, cow-path streets and wooden shoes. Newtown is approached over—and how prettily named—the Carola Bridge, spanning the Elbe. But I shall remember Dresden chiefly for the first horse and buggy runaway I have seen in 20 years.

A nag, attached to a dilapidated gig in the Schlossplatz, for no apparent reason belted and ran hell-for-leather across the square, careening around a corner on two wheels. Windows flew up, show keepers scurried for cover. It is grander than an auto smash and no one gets hurt.

If some one would turn a bull loose in one of the china shops it would be a red letter day. As it is I believe glories of Dresden are largely sentimental or of the past. That is true of many "wonder cities." The city's zenith was reached with the reign of August the Strong in the 70's.

What Louis XIV did for Versailles, Frederick the Great for Potsdam, August the Strong—and what a bill for a German acrobat!—did for Dresden. The population is more than a half million. Hindenburg side-wheel whippers plentiful. Meat three times a day, with lashings of potatoes on every menu!

Billboards in front of a theatre for 500 heralded: "Tausend Nakte Frauen!" I stood at a matinee and saw exactly 15 beefy blondes wearing nothing above the waist and ostrich feathers suspended from a giraffe. It was poor imitation of pre-American burlesque. But "Tausend Nakte Frauen" draws visiting bay-pitchers. My mission, of course, was journalistic.

Dresden has cafes opening at 6 a. m. and closing at noon, patronized solely by nightworkers. Patrons drop in at sun-up, drink beer, converse with fellows and listen to orchestras. It enlivens Dresden mornings.

Three dishes are indelibly linked with the Fatherland—sausage, sauer-kraut and schmeer kase. Yet they are not on menus and are only secured by asking. It is though they were ashamed of such yun-yums. Dresden is famed for eisbein—or pig's knuckle—costing one mark and about as big as a small ham of the size of Lester Allen. Another dish is fried eels, looking like mahogany rulers and tasting like the smell of varnish. My waiter at lunch today used to work at Keene's.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Infants' Diet

When it comes to a sick baby, mother and doctor are at their wits' end. It takes much wisdom to decide whether to take the food away entirely or whether to give the sick baby a modified diet.

At any time of year, but especially in late summer, a little baby is apt to develop a severe form of inflammatory diarrhea. In this disease attacks the large bowel.

The baby may have been perfectly well, when suddenly there comes an attack of dysentery. This is accompanied by high fever. The child vomits. It is apparent that a well-developed diarrhea has made its appearance. As the symptoms progress and become severe we give the attack the name of "dysentery."

Almost every bad symptom a baby has may be traced to wrong feeding. The fact of the matter is that most of the ailments of the human family are traceable to dietary mistakes.

In dysentery the giving of food must be stopped at once. For 24 hours the infant must have nothing but pure water. It should be given in frequent doses, and if there is a tendency to vomit, the water should be given in smaller doses. Where the vomiting persists, even the water must be omitted.

The mother need have no anxiety in taking away the food from the baby for a period of 24 hours. The natural strength of the baby will guard against any unpleasant effect from this treatment.

After the first 24 hours a little food can be given. The best food at this time is a thin gruel, such as barley gruel. This should be the only food given for a day or two.

For the child who is poorly nourished and seems to need more food, boiled skimmed milk may be given. At the end of two days a mixture of one part milk to three parts water may be given to the baby. If this food is continued for some time, orange juice should be added to the diet.

As babies seem to be such frail things, and seem to be so dependent upon an unceasing supply of food, the new mother may hesitate to do as the doctor tells her in such a case as we are describing. But the tiny stomach and alimentary tract must have a rest so that the baby's recuperative powers may be built up and the system restored to normal health. This can be done only by eliminating food for the time specified.

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

President Garfield remarked on the occasion of his inauguration March 4, 1881, seeing so many Ohio men about him on the platform, that Ohio seemed to have about all the honors she was entitled to, and Whitelaw Reid, another son of Ohio but not at the time in public service, added "at least about all the other states can stand." Garfield himself was an Ohioan, so was succeeding So also was Morrison R. Waite who, as chief justice of the supreme court, had administered the oath of office to the new president. Representing the army, Generals W. T. Sherman and P. H. Sherman were on the platform while John Sherman, already one of the great men at Washington, added still more to the Ohio contingent.

Just now the White House is not occupied by an Ohio man though it has been three times since Garfield's day. Former Vice President Charles G. Dawes of Ohio, formerly presided over the senate, a son of Ohio, Speaker Nicholas Longworth presides over the proceedings of the house; and the late William Howard Taft, who was an Ohioan, presided over the supreme court of the United States. It is interesting to note that these three sons were born on the banks of the Ohio river. Northern Ohio seems to have fallen back a little.

But there is a son of Ohio at the head of the American Federation of Labor, William Green of Coshocton county. There is a son of Ohio at the head of the Spanish War soldiers' organization, Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland, and the late John R. McQuigg of Cleveland was head of the American Legion. The last three mentioned were born in northern Ohio, which pulls up the standing of that section of the state somewhat, even if not in regard to federal service.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, August 13

Hostile, adverse and frustrating astral forces are in the ascendant on this day, according to the lunar and mutual configurations. This applies to employment, business transactions and to domestic and artistic activities. Under this direction it will be difficult to make much progress and the best advice is to work along the lines of least resistance, concerning harmony and equanimity as far as possible. Those whose birthday it is are under a forecast of a year of delays and obstructions, with employment in jeopardy and the personal relations carrying a menace of inharmonious and disappointment, unless every precaution be taken to shun friction and disturbance. The funds should be preserved from extravagance. The best advice is to plod along with determination and equanimity.

A child born on this day should be given a practical education, one to develop patience, perseverance and hopeful resistance toward obstructions. Also frugality should be inculcated.

PARENTS URGED TO INSIST ON CLEAN MOVIES

Women Director Issues Charge To Operators Of Playhouses

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12.—Parents should exercise supervision over the motion pictures they permit their children to see, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, associate director of public relations for the Motion Picture Industry, Inc., believes.

"This is the age of parents off the job," Mrs. Winter maintains, "and it appears that community supervision is necessary. The chief criticism regarding children attending the unit shows lies at the door of parents so long as parents shift their responsibilities."

Would censorship for motion pictures help this situation? To this question Mrs. Winter's answer is "No," because moral results cannot be obtained from any mechanical agency.

"No standard would satisfy everyone," she said, "and therefore every city, town or section of the country is left to be its own censor. The producers, however, must desire and give them what they fall into step with what the masses want if they are made to understand those wants."

Producers are aware of the fact that unless they have a better public and provide better pictures that they will suffer, according to Mrs. Winter, and to this end eighteen of the largest producers in the country have adopted a new code regarding pictures, with particular applications to crime, sex, vulgarity, obscenity, profanity, costumes and religion.

The general principles adopted in the code are:

No picture shall be produced which will lower the moral standards of those who see it. Hence, the sympathy of the audience should never be thrown to the side of crime, wrongdoing, evil or sin. Correct standards of life shall be presented on the screen, subject only to necessary dramatic contracts.

Law, natural or human, should not be ridiculed, nor shall sympathy be created for its violation.

This code, according to Mrs. Winter, should appeal to the women because it takes care of many of the objectionable elements pointed out by them.

Referring to her position in Hollywood as that of a lightning rod, Mrs. Winter explained that it carried with it two functions; first, to voice the mass opinion of the public, and, second, to give to the public more accurate information on what really is going on in the industry.

"The industry has something to sell and the makers want to know what people think of their products," she said, "and through me they hope to accomplish this due to my wide contact with the leading women of America."

WAS MISERABLE UNTIL KONJOLA RELIEVED HIM

Another Victory Over Stubborn Case That Had Resisted Every Medicine Tried

Many of the victories scored by Konjola are so remarkable that they might challenge belief were the actual facts not known and verified. Take, for instance, the experience of Mr. Milo Gumbert, 732 Marshall Avenue—Youngstown, Ohio, who declares:

"I suffered from stomach and kidney troubles, and was most miserable. Food soured in my stomach, and I had headaches and dizzy spells. Nothing I tried helped me, and I was discouraged. But Konjola triumphed where other treatment failed. My appetite is fine; headaches, backache, and dizzy spells are gone. My kidneys are normal and I feel like a different man. Konjola certainly proved to be a master medicine in my case."

Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve deadening drugs, no heart depressing chemicals. It needs no such ingredients. It is powerful in the ill of the aged, yet may be given to the infant.

Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio at J.J. H. Lease Drug Co. 3 Stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Highway Bandits Steal Chickens

Find Bodies

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—Police today looked for identification of a woman who was found drowned yesterday in Lake Erie. The body was recovered and taken to a morgue. Stanley Hazarak, 32, was found drowned in Cuyahoga river and Mrs. Fannie Pollack, 66, was found hanged in a garage at her home. All were called suicides.

BALTIMORE—With Henry Benson it was merely a case of swapping a stomach ache for a headache. Suffering with the former he gave a gypsy woman $4,000 in bills to make a plaster out of them to cure him, he wore it five days and then discovered the $4,000 had shrunk to $9. That's when Henry got the headache.

FLARED FURS TO FEATURE STYLES DURING AUTUMN

New Variety Of Coats Will Be Popular With Women

PARIS, Aug. 12.—When the fur tier this fall it will be of the flared variety imitating fashionable fabric coats, fur ones too have left their straight up and down lines and are invariably flared at the lower edge or very frequently made with a flat front godet on the right side to provide for that comfortable wrapped feeling.

Sleeves, too, have the flared feeling, being broader below than at the top on all fine fur coats of breitschwanz, caracul, mink, black mole or ermine. This wide takes the form of a simple bell or bishop line which is variously held in by a narrower cuff or wristband designed to keep out cold winds. There are half a dozen types of sleeves with a wide below the elbow giving a new note to the entire coat. Brown caracul and galkack, as pliable as broadcloth and beautifully worked by hand are being shown for winter.

Lanvin is making a charming short straight ermine jacket with high collar and plain sleeves of classic cut. Revillon makes a short silver lame coat in dove-color, with shadowy petals interwoven in black and lighter dove tones. It has shirred on barques at the sides and a handsome silver fox collar. Another comes in bottle-green velvet.

For Troubles due to Acid Indigestion, Acid Stomach, Headache, Gases, Nausea.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 29, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 40-inch material.

Women on All Fronts Win Equality

In Varied Fields of Science, Art, Politics, Aviation and Business, Weaker Sex Demonstrate Equality to Male.

MEGAN LLOYD GEORGE MME. CURIE DR. FLORENCE SABIN MA FERGUSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—What has happened to that good old phrase, "The Weaker Sex?"

It has dropped out of popular speech as completely as "twenty-three-skidoo" and "horseless carriages."

The ladies themselves can be thanked for relegating the expression to the graveyard of antiquated phraseology.

Today there is no "weaker sex." In the varied fields of science, art, politics, aviation and business women have demonstrated her equality with the leading males of the human species.

For example there is Mme. Marie Curie, who, with her late husband, discovered radium, the only known cure for cancer. At the age of 63, Mme. Curie is still laboring to discover new sources of the miracle metal.

Another outstanding feminine scientist is Dr. Florence Sabin, of the Rockefeller Institute. Dr. Sabin is famous throughout the world as a pioneer researcher in blood chemistry. During the long struggle for women suffrage in this country she was one of the most efficient and tireless workers.

Turning to aviation we have Miss Amy Johnson, the English girl who astonished the British Empire by making a solo flight from England to Australia. Neither danger, the doubts of skeptical experts nor monetary difficulties deterred Miss Johnson from accomplishing this epoch-making exploit.

The names of illustrious women in politics are legion. Two, Nellie Ross Taylor, of Wyoming, and M. Ferguson of Texas, became the first women governors in the United States.

Women play a vital part in British politics also. Margaret Bondfield, once a humble dry goods clerk, is today minister of labor in Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet. She is the first female cabinet minister in the history of the British government.

Megan Lloyd George, daughter of the wartime prime minister, was not satisfied to be merely the daughter of a great political figure.

Miss Lloyd George today is an important member of the House of Commons. Constant association with her father during his long and stormy career fitted her for the role she is now playing in official English life.

Literature and the drama are two other activities in which women excel. The most substantial stage hit ever written was penned by a woman—Anne Nichols. She not only wrote "Abe's Irish Rose" but she staged and produced it with her own money after every theatrically "wise" manager on Broadway had rejected it.

For five solid years it ran on Broadway. The profits amassed by Miss Nichols from this single venture aggregated $300,000. In the front rank of literary best-sellers we have Fannie Hurst, Edna Ferber, Kathleen Norris and Mary Roberts Rinehart.

In business circles we find women running factories, great advertising agencies, chain-store systems, and other million-dollar enterprises.

Little wonder that we no longer hear the words "the weaker sex." Women aren't Amy Johnsons or Mme. Curies, but neither are all men Shakespeares, Edisons and Fords.

James Ganghan at Warren, Mrs. Ganghan was formerly Miss Helen Simpson and a resident of this place.

Sunday afternoon callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Woods were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballantine and sons and Mrs. Mary Woods of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Woods and daughter, Jane of Alliance.

Roy Grim has beautified his home with a coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hoover and son, Robert, of Piquette visited over Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kirkpatrick.

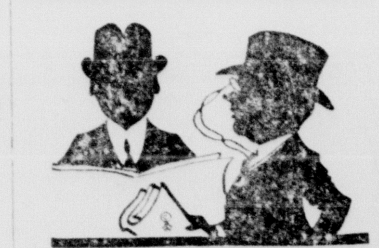

Mrs. Bertha Wire and Mrs. Brownlee and son of Youngstown were Sunday callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Molle.

Mr. and Mrs. Con Morley and family of Youngstown were Sunday visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Mathey.

CONCORD, N. Y.—Over the wall is cut, but in this case not for the player. Inmates of the state prison have taken to golf and the jail yard's a golf course now. But with only two clubs on hand they have broadcast an appeal for more.

economic problems, while the fifth candidate, former Congressman John McSweeney of Wooster is considered dry and supported by the Anti-Saloon League.

Liquor In Contest

The liquor question also has figured in the Democratic gubernatorial contest with Forman, Congressman George White of Marietta favoring enforcement of the present law and Stephen M. Young of Cleveland recommending modification. White managed the presidential campaign of former Governor James M. Cox in 1920. The latter case has advocated repeal of prohibition.

Interest in local factional fights together with the Democratic senatorial contest was expected to bring out a vote approximating normal for a primary. Only a small percentage of the 3,000,000 eligible voters were expected to cast their ballots, however.

Expect Heavy Votes

A heavy vote was predicted for Columbus and Toledo as a result of warm local contests. At Columbus, there was a lively race for the Democratic congressional nomination with Arthur P. Lammack in a battle with three opponents in a wet platform. The other candidates are Prof. H. Gordon Hayes of Ohio State University and Carl Valentine, Congressman John C. Sparks, Republican, is unopposed.

The Republicans had prohibition as an issue in the 9th congressional district (Toledo) where Congressman W. W. Chalmers, a dryist opposing Wilbur M. White, editor of the Toledo Times, a wet.

MARKETS

Corn Crop Short

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The mild energy which stock market bull forces mustered yesterday to turn back bear selling disappeared overnight on publication of the government crop figures revealing the shortest corn crop in more than 25 years.

Transportation issues and shares of companies depending largely for their earnings on the agricultural section were liquidated freely today, but the earlier hours today, but the whole market suffered from the volume of selling orders. The general weakness and the absence of any appreciable demand at the lower levels had an unfavorable effect on commission house sentiment.

Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Rock Island, Canadian Pacific, General Theaters and Bullard broke to new lows for the year or longer. Losses of one to two points were general. The decline, reaching 7 in Eastman Kodak and about 5 in J. I. Case, Allied Chemical and American Tobacco, "B" Westinghouse Electric and Vanadium lost 3. Warner Brothers was an exception, rallying a couple of points on active short covering.

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Jessie W. Walker was divorced from a mere man but she is collecting her alimony from a tabernacle's congregation.

Her husband, Carl C., was leader of a local sect. He defaulted several installments on his separation. Mrs. Walker by proper process reaped a truck load of "ecclesiastical" furniture including a xylophone, chairs, electric ice box and 193 chairs. When one buyer at the auction wanted the ice box for "home made" drinks and another the xylophone for Sunday duck shooting the unpaid congregation rallied to the wary of "hold everything" while a purse was raised for Mrs. Walker.

They can sit down again to listen to the xylophone.

ILLNESS CLAIMS NOTED GENERAL

Rainbow Division Leader Passes On; Was In Mitchell Dispute

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Major Gen. Charles T. Menoher, former chief of the army air corps, whose break 10 years ago with Col. William Mitchell precipitated a nation-wide uproar, died late yesterday of pneumonia.

Gen. Menoher had been ill for some time following his retirement in 1926.

During the course of a long and distinguished army career he had served as battle commander of the Rainbow (42nd division) in France, and bore therefrom not only the distinguished service medal, but also the decorations of France, Belgium and Italy.

The clash with the then Brig. Gen. Mitchell, assistant air chief, took place shortly after Menoher had assumed command of the army air forces shortly after his return from France.

Taking issue with actions and statements of Mitchell Gen. Menoher openly demanded his subordinate be relieved from duty, thus initiating a nationally-aired debate which culminated in the court martial of Mitchell and his eventual resignation from the service.

John W. Weeks, then secretary of war sought to smooth over the clash, but the breach was never healed. Gen. Menoher himself resigned as chief of the air corps in 1931 asking a line assignment.

JEWELRY CAUSES ARREST OF MEN

Two Arrest In Warren
On Suspicion; Held
For Investigation

WARREN, Aug. 12.—Two men who said they were Morley and Lowell Rosenthal brothers, of Cleveland were held here today on charges of suspicion, after police found 53 watches and many rings in their possession. Cleveland police advised Warren authorities the men might be the ones who recently robbed a jewelry store at Marion. Detectives from Marion said they would come here and take finger prints of the suspects.

The men were arrested yesterday after filling station employees informed police they had tried to sell the watches, saying they needed the money for quick repairs to a broken-down truck load of liquor. Warren police said the men later admitted the truck story was a fake and that they did not explain the possession of the large quantity of jewelry.

UTAH SWEEP BY FLOOD WATERS

Cloudbursts Responsible For Heavy Losses In Mining Areas

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Aug. 12.—Homes, farmsteads and highways were beneath a sea of mud today, washed upon them when cloudbursts sent floods roaring out of canyons into sections of the Salt Lake valley yesterday.

At Bingham, site of the Utah Copper Co. mine, the flood swept down the town's long single street demolishing 20 homes, damaging many more and filling business houses with rocks and mud.

Centerville and Farmington, too, felt the full fury of the storm. Nearly 100 farm residents were driven from their homes by torrents which rushed out of four canyons, killing livestock, tearing down buildings and endangering the lives of fleeing farmers.

The disturbance started with cloudbursts at Ophir, east of here, traveled to Bingham, and crossed the Great Salt Lake to Centerville and Farmington.

Additional damage was caused to highways and railroads in the Centerville-Farmington area. The Salt Lake-Ogden highway was buried under piles of huge rocks and big trees in places.

Valuable orchards, truck garden acreage and nursery lands were ruined by boulders and mud.

MASCHKE AGAIN TESTS STRENGTH

Supports Candidate For Prosecutor In Cuyahoga

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—Maurice Maschke, Republican national committeeman and his party's generalissimo in Cuyahoga county, once more met a test of strength in today's primary.

Maschke's fight to gain the nomination for county prosecutor for George B. Harris over Arthur H. Day was the sole contest of importance in the Republican primary. Two years ago Maschke supported Day, who lost in the November election to Ray T. Miller, Democrat.

An echo of the vote fraud scandals of two years ago, which resulted in the ousting of the board of elections, was heard on the eve of the balloting when Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown received reports that an attempt would be made to stuff the ballot boxes in the 12th ward, famous Republican machine ward where one-sided majorities are always the rule. Brown ordered the election officials to pay especially attention to the booths today.

The Democratic primary was interesting chiefly through the candidacy of Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland for nomination for United States senator on a platform of repeal of the 18th amendment. Bulkley's fate was considered to hinge on the number of votes he polled in his home city.

It was estimated that not more than 80,000 votes—55,000 in the Republican and 25,000 in the Democratic primary—or less than half the county's voting strength, would be cast.

THE DAY In Sports

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—One of the Brooklyn Robins celebrated his 72nd birthday the other evening. Don't jump into hysterics and claim there was a 72-year-old ball player hopping about Ebbets Field for no one will argue there was. The man who sat down, shifted out 72 flames and cut himself a piece of birthday cake was Larry Sutton, more informally known as Brooklyn's aging scout.

Robin constituents banded together and tendered Larry a genuine, old-style greeting, pounding well the old boy's back. Each knacker recalled memories to Sutton but when they were all through congratulating him, Larry still had plenty of thoughts. In fact he had so many at the moment he rested to tell a few of the boys about them.

Sells Programs
"I can recall as far back as my first job," Larry smiled as he assumed a comfortable position. "I was a program seller when the old Cincinnati Reds played in Coney Island, N. Y., in 1899. Much later I grew up with the game. I became an umpire and I don't think I ever remember a far happier day than the afternoon the Newark International League club clinched the only pennant it ever won for the city. Naturally I was overjoyed; I was president of the team."

At this point Larry wiped the humidity from his brow and continued: "In 1938, though, I began taking an unusual interest in baseball players and I decided to recruit a few of them into the big leagues. Doc Scanlon was the first I focused my attention upon. He was a pitcher who seemed to have everything, so I tipped the Brooklyn Dodger off to him. You all know how good Scanlon was, talk more?"

Larry evidently had spoken his speech. The man is modest to a degree and he doesn't praise his own adventures unless pressed for details. So the boys urged him on and Larry obliged.

"Well, I don't know what else there is to say about Doc other than he still lives and practices his profession—that is, medicine—in Brooklyn. Scanlon is a rabid rooter for the team, though. After sending up Scanlon, I was appointed regular scout for the club. And I didn't resent the appointment at all. Since then I've sent up my share of big league material."

Peering at the names of those Larry recommended is almost like looking at part of Who's Who in baseball. Here was Zach Wheat, the greatest outfielder without questions who ever trod left field for the Robins. Zach was one of the most reliable hitters and fielders in the game. Today "Buck" is cultivating his farm in Polo, Mo., in between seasons of semi-pro ball there.

Discovered Vance
Then there were "Daddy" Vance, Brooklyn's contribution to speedball tennis; Hank DeBerry, the "Dazzler" battery mate; Jake Daubert, ex-first base of the Robs; Jimmy Ring, who used to pitch for Brooklyn before joining the Phils and who is now out of the Phils and who is now out of the majors; Jeff Pfeffer, another retired major leaguer who used to hurl them for the Dodgers and Cards; Eddie "Red" Smith, George Wilkes, Gus Getz, George Cutshaw and Leon Cadore, former Robin hurler, who is remembered for the record-breaking 20 inning 1-1 tie game against Boston, May 1, 1920.

Also added to Sutton's prominent list were Eddie Brown, who used to slug and centerfield for the Dodgers, and who drifted from them to Boston because of a personally weak throwing wrist; Charley Hargreaves, former Robin back stop and now in the minors; Jim Elliott, mammoth Dodger boxman who has accomplished a startling return to form this season and who probably outweighs all the men Larry ever dispatched big league-wards; Ruben Bressler, ex-Cincinnati and now Dodger left-fielder; Jack Dalton; Del Bissonette, Robin first-sacker; Hy Myers, who used to favor in center for Robbie and then dropped into the Cardinal outfield before donning an overcoat to the majors; and Howard Ehmke, Philadelphia Athletic pitching veteran who astounded the world and more astounded the Chicago Cubs in last season's world series.

Also were there Casey Stengel, current pilot of the Toledo Mud Hens and former New York Giant; Philles and Dodger routabouts; Nick Altrock, Washington's Puncchello; and umpires, Bob Hart and Ernie Quigley.

Need more be mentioned of Sutton's elation in tape-measuring a ball player?

Racquetters Enter New York Matches

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Thirty-two teams start play today in the men's doubles in the Eastern Grass country tennis championships at the Westchester Country club as the majority of the singles players turn to team competition.

Big Bill Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, former national champions, have been seeded at No. 1. A newly-formed all Jersey combination of John Van Ryn, East Orange and Gregory Mangin, Newark, have been placed at No. 4 while the teams of Fritz Mercer and J. Gilbert Hall and Harris Cogeshall and Wilbur F. Coen Jr. complete the seeded list.

Chicago Cubs Go Into First Place In National Scramble

Tired Brooklyn Outfit Falters As Windy City Gang Takes Pinnacle; Washington Drubs Indians And Gains On Athletics

(By The Associated Press)

The Chicago Cubs breathed deeply today of the dustless air at the head of the procession—leaders of the National league parade once more.

In second place, crestfallen and perhaps just a bit weary of the frantic struggling that is marking the final drive for the flag, are the Brooklyn Robins, out of first place with the exception of a couple of one day lapses, for the first time since June.

The margin is only a point, but it is a margin, and the worst is yet to come for the falling flock of Uncle Wilbert Robinson, for the Robins must face the battling Cubs themselves in a four game series that opens today in the backyard of the 1929 champions.

The Cardinals dealt their final blow in the overthrow of Brooklyn yesterday, coming from behind in the ninth to score three runs and whip the Robins for the third straight time, 7 to 6, while young Buddy Teachout, freshman southpaw of the Cubs, was taming the

His East-West Ocean Hop May Beat Coste's

Lieut. Paris, French Navy aviator, is said to be quietly preparing for a westward flight across the Atlantic which may steal the thunder of Capt. Dieudonne Coste, who is planning a similar feat. Paris, holds the world's record for speed and endurance with a seaplane.

Boston Braves, 4 to 2, the third time McCarthy's warriors have turned that trick in two days.

More useful even than the drop of the Robins is the record of the flock against the Cubs themselves.

Brooklyn has beaten Chicago only four times against 11 defeats.

The Cubs tussle with the Braves was a simple thing with Teachout allowing but six hits, Wallie Berger got his 29th homer but Cantwell was hit freely.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Giants 8 to 5 and kept them from gaining precious ground. Larry French pitched nice ball to halt a Pirate losing streak that had reached five straight. Bill Terry did most of the Giant hitting with a homer, double and single and French helped his own cause with three hits.

Washington's Senators picked up a game on the pace setting Athletics in the American league but the breach is still very wide. Washington clipped Cleveland 9 to 2 while old Red Faber and his spiltball were taming the A's and Lefty Walberg 8 to 3. Goose Goslin hit a pair of homers to lead a St. Louis attack that halted the Yankee winning streak at six games, 10 to 5. O'Rourke and Blue also hit home runs.

Danny MacFayden turned in the best pitching performance of the day, letting Detroit down with three hits, two of them by Easterling, as the Red Sox won 5 to 1. Ray Koip also hurled well for Cincinnati, holding the slugging Phillies to six hits as the Reds won 4 to 2.

St. Paul Steps Out In Association Race

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—St. Paul took another step forward yesterday in its race with Toledo for second place by taking the night game from Indianapolis 2 to 1, while the Mud Hens were losing to Kansas City by a 9 to 0 score.

Columbus opened its series with Milwaukee with a 4 to 1 win over the Brewers and the league-leading Colonels downed Minneapolis 5 to 2.

Paddy Harmon Dies Almost Penniless

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Paddy Harmon, the drummer, whose dream of a 7,000,000 sports palace came true, died as he started life—virtually penniless.

This was revealed today when plans were set in motion to stage a benefit boxing show in the Chicago stadium, the building Paddy built, next month with the receipts going to his widow and four-year-old daughter.

WHICHONE SEEKS TITLE SATURDAY

Whitney Entrant Meets Gallant Fox During Saratoga Races

BY ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—With George D. Widener's Jamestown enthroned as the juvenile champion for the time being at least, another title will be at stake Saturday when Harry Payne Whitney's Whichone seeks to oust Gallant Fox from the three-year-old championship in the sixty-first running of the Travers at Saratoga.

Back to the racing wars after an enforced vacation, the great son of Chic appears to be faster than at any time in his sensational career.

If Whichone's performances in the Saratoga and Whitney stakes are any criterion as to what he will do Saturday, then Gallant Fox is up against a mighty tough proposition in his battle to go through the year undefeated. Supporters of the Fox may be slightly worried by Whichone's 1:37 and 2:04 in his two Saratoga victories the past week but not Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons.

Asked what he thinks about Saturday's duel, the veteran trainer of the Sir Gallahad III offspring merely smiles and gives his usual answer: "I have a mighty fit horse."

Saturday will be the first time this year, Whichone has not gone to the post the odds-on favorite. In the Withers, Saratoga and Whitney, the son of Chic, faced the starter at prohibitive odds and won. In the Belmont he was quoted at 3 to 5 while Gallant Fox, the winner, was the second choice at 8 to 5. The Travers, however, will be different. The Fox will in all probability rule the 3 to 5 choice with the Whichone being offered at 7 or 8 to 5.

Men who are rascals severally are highly witty people in the mass—Montesquieu.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Eggs are the great standby of the housekeeper, for they are capable of all sorts of guises and transformations. The plain omelet of breakfast can be glorified into any one of a hundred varieties with quite elegant ingredients, suitable for a fancy luncheon or supper dish. Now, while eggs are abundant and low in price, is a good time to experiment with some of those fine dishes calling for eight to a dozen eggs at a time. Here are two recipes for very different dishes in which yolks and whites are used separately:

Chicken Custard, Soft
2 cups milk
8 egg yolks
Beat egg yolks and clear chicken coup in a double boiler, continuing to stir over the boiling hot water until it is thick. Serve at once as a soup course.

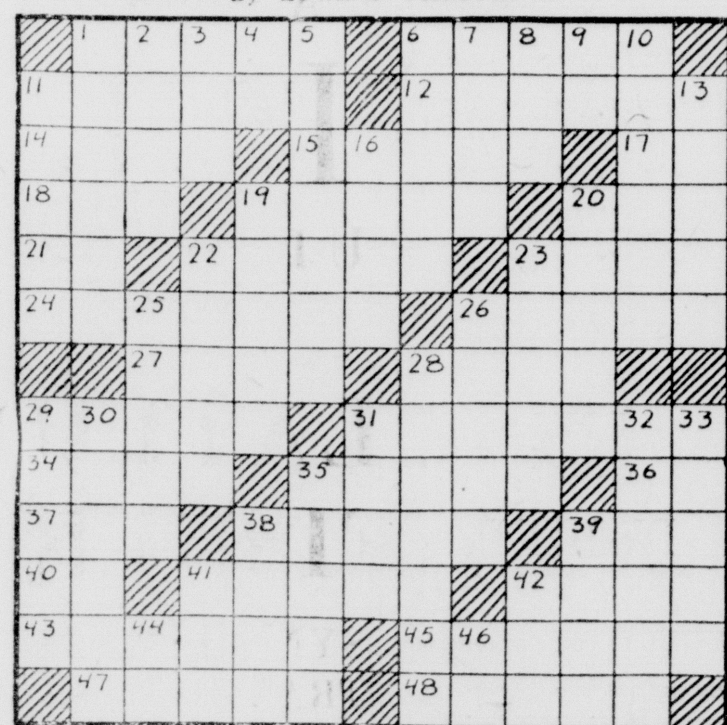

Cocoanut Kisses
1/2 cupful shredded cocoanut.
8 egg whites.
8 egg yolks.
1/2 teaspoonful almond flavoring.
1/2 teaspoonful vanilla.
Whip the egg whites stiff, then fold in the sugar, cocoanut, and add flavoring last. With a small spoon drop the mixture on a buttered baking sheet, and bake in a slow oven for one hour.

A pleasant luncheon dish is to combine eggs with a cooked green vegetable, baking in late oven. Spinach, chard, celery, onions, or any other green vegetable may be used. "Florentine eggs" are merely eggs baked with spinach—a combination which makes even this unpopular vegetable quite agreeable.

Baked Eggs Florentine
2 cupfuls cooked spinach
6 eggs.
1/2 teaspoonful salt
1/2 teaspoonful pepper.
1/2 teaspoonful vanilla
1/2 cupful Parmesan cheese.
Place the cooked, finely chopped spinach in a buttered baking dish. With the bottom of a custard cup make shallow depressions in the spinach, and in each of these break a raw egg. Season with salt and pepper and place in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes, until eggs are firm. Just before removing from oven sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

Looting Goes On Despite Soldiers

BOMBAY, Aug. 12.—Looting of villages in the Sind is going on night and day without letup although troops have been poured into the disturbed area by platoons. The lawless elements have cut the railway from Quetta making reinforcement movements difficult. The wave of restlessness originated at Sukkur last week and spread quickly into surrounding villages. The troops have been guided into the most seriously affected points by natives well acquainted with the roads.

Urgent government reports today stated the authorities were badly hampered in troop movements throughout the Sind.

Stage Now Stealing Stars From Talkie Constellation

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, CAL., Aug. 12. Broadway, robbed of its stage talent by the talkies, newest Goliath of the entertainment world, struck back at Hollywood and gave screenland a dose of its own medicine.

The audible screen which took Ruth Chatterton, Marylin Miller, Jack Oakie, Ann Harding and other headliners from the footlights is now giving up to the legitimate stage names which long have been movie by words—Mary Pickford, Rod La Rocque and Vilma Banky.

Miss Pickford confirmed the announcement yesterday of Arch Selwyn, New York producer, that she will go to New York for a stage appearance "just as soon as a suitable play" can be found for her. She denied, however, rumors she planned to retire from the screen for good. She has two more pictures to make for United Artists this year and will return to the stage only for eight weeks between the pictures.

COLUMBIANA

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rider and son, Paul, Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wright, Salem, were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holloway and family, Canfield road.

Tuning in on the Talkies by Walthill

THE talkies may have been in Shakespeare's mind when he wrote: "The rest is silence."

"Cheating the Public" is a honest confession good for the film.

John Barrymore's first talkie of the new season will be "Moby Dick."

"The Right to Lie" is not assigned exclusively to lovers in the movie plots.

Mary Brian will be featured with John Halliday in "Captain Applejack."

"The Black Stork" indicates that even that old bird is specializing in his chosen profession.

"Maybe It's Love" opines a film-tittle and movies, being what they are, it probably is.

For "Double Feature" Day "Forbidden Love" "Naughty Naughty"

Cause and Effect Heaving chests are taboo in the talkies.

The reason? Deep breathing cradles like radio static.

Told in Movie Titles "Fast Workers" "Such Men Are Dangerous"

Fence-Rail Talkies Farmer Silo says: "Endurance is a habit with the men of this neighborhood; but we wait till the trees are split into rails."

Those Movie Signs "Cricket on the Hearth" With Sound Effects.

Talk About Your Talkies "Dancing Sweeties" have stepped out in Warner Bros. talkies.

Olson and Johnson come to the screen, from vaudeville, to plead "Oh Sailor Behave!"

Joe E. Brown and Bernice Claire are going at "Top Speed" in the talkies.

La Rocque and his wife, Vilma Banky, are to be co-starred by Selwyn in a play adapted from the Hungarian by John Emerson and Anita Loos. The blonde Vilma, a Hungarian, teamed romantically with Ronald Coleman, was an outstanding success in silent pictures, but when "talkies" came her accent limited her to foreign characterizations. She is now in Europe.

Coincident with the announcement Miss Pickford, Miss Banky and La Rocque were returning to the legitimate stage, came reports that Coleman Moore, film star, also has signed with Selwyn. Salary demands have prevented her signing new motion picture contracts since the completion of her engagement with First National pictures.

Mary Duncan, who came to the films after playing in "The Shanghai Gesture," on Broadway, announced she also had an offer from Selwyn. She has not indicated whether she will accept.

Corns All Gone

Big and Small Radox Took Them Roots and All

In England they have a sensible easy way to get rid of corns in just a few days—a joyous invigorating foot bath every night for 3 or 4 nights—then lift out the corn—out to stay.

Ask J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three Stores or any drug store for a package of Radox, first time on sale in America. Hard corns—soft corns—callouses—hard skin on heels and toes—it's all the same to Radox—you'll have new, strong, flawless feet a week from now—ask for Radox and enjoy walking—dancing. Adv.

and BOB BELL

Never before has a picture so realistically expressed the spirit of the American home.

Here is a great human story of a glorious mother and the innocent heart of a boy whose love overcame barriers of hatred and turned a losing fight into a triumphant victory. One of the greatest mother pictures ever made.
